Quark Matter 2014: Final Announcement

April 25, 2014

Dear Colleague,

this is the final announcement of the “Quark Matter 2014” conference which will be held in Darmstadt, Germany, on May 19-24, 2014.

Access to the conference site will be limited to registered participants. The registration is considered “complete” only after all fees have been paid.

The registration is open until May 12, 2014 at the conference web site <http://qm2014.gsi.de>. Please note that after that date the registration is closed. In particular, registration and payment of the conference fee on site in Darmstadt will not be possible.

A conference agenda is available online now, and further information will be distributed to the registered conference participants in due time.

Sincerely yours,

Peter Braun-Munzinger and Johanna Stachel
